TARIFF LOBBIES CITED AS CAUSE OF HEARTACHES

William Burgess Tells Senators of Broken Friendships.

KOCH, ONCE PROTEGE, NOW HOSTILE, CLAIM

Commission's Expert Is Blamed by Witness at Inquiry.

DISMISSAL SOUGHT BY POTTERY GROUP

Employee of Interests Avoids Contempt Charge by Answering Query.

By CARLISLE BARGERON.

The heartaches and broken friendships that attend the tariff-grabbing game were recited at the first hearing yesterday of the Senate subcommittee investigating lobbyists.

Outwardly the hearing was monotonous, but between the lines, so to speak, there was drama.

It was the story of William Burgess, former member of the Tariff Commission, the "witness" of "observers," and Frederick J. Koch, a commission expert.

The beginning of Burgess' observations of tariff bills antedates the birth of many of us. It was back in 1894, the Wilson-Gorman bill, which was passed against Grover Cleveland's publicly expressed outrage and which he became a law without affixing his signature.

Burgess was an "observer" to the congressional maneuverings of that bill—he insisted that he was never a lobbyist—and he was an "observer" at the passage of the Dingley bill in 1897.

Veteran Tariff Observer.

He was an "observer" as a member of a committee that was to watch out for the pottery industry's interests. In 1904 he was placed on a salary basis as a member of this committee.

He was the "witness" of the Payne-Aldrich bill of 1909, the Underwood-Simmons act of 1912 and the Fordney-McCumber act of 1922, to say nothing of observing the pending bill.

He is now 72 years old. It was while he was a member of the tariff commission, by appointment of President Harding, that he brought the comparative youngster, Koch, to the commission as an expert. He has known him 20 years, he said, and regarded him highly. They were always good friends.

Then one day here, a few months back, when the Senate finance subcommittee was hearing the pottery people and their story of how Chinese and Japanese imports were ruining efforts to build up an American pottery business, they saw this young protégé of Burgess sitting behind Senator King, of Utah, and telling him questions to ask the pottery people.

Says Koch Prompted Query.

For one thing, Koch told King to ask them about two stories that had appeared in trade publications, one about a pottery consolidation, the inference being, said Burgess, that this consolidation meant prosperity, and the other story about the prosperity of W. W. Wells' pottery firm.

Wells, president of the Homer Laughlin China Co., of West Virginia, was pleading the pottery people's poverty at the time.

The questions were decidedly unfair, insisted Burgess.

"Do you mean to say that they were not relevant?" asked the surprised Senator Walsh.

Koch's Conduct "Obvious."

Burgess insisted that the prosperity of the Homer Laughlin China Co. had no bearing on the impoverished condition of the industry as a whole and that the consolidation which the trade paper told of was because of this impoverished condition rather than prosperity which was to be inferred.

"Mr. Koch's conduct was so obvious," he said, "that a man sitting in the room, whom none of us knew, asked if he was Senator King's secretary."

WILMER EYE CLINIC GETS MELLON GIFT

Fellowship Donation by Head of Treasury Is Told on Dedication Day.

BRECKENRIDGE AID TOLD

Special to The Washington Post.

Baltimore, Md., Oct. 15.—The receipt of gifts totaling $60,000 to found two research fellowships and the announcement that funds for two more would be sought, marked the dedication today of the Wilmer Ophthalmological Institute of the Johns Hopkins Hospital.

The gifts were from Andrew W. Mellon, Secretary of the Treasury, and his brother, and Adolph Lewisohn, of New York. Mellon and his brother, who each gave half of the $30,000 required.

Notification of their intention was received by telegram at the opening of the dedication ceremonies.

Scientists from all parts of the world and many men and women prominent in national affairs, as well as former patients of Dr. William Holland Wilmer, in recognition of whose work as an eye specialist the institute was founded, attended the ceremony on the lawn of the Hopkins group in front of the new unit.

The exercises were the first of the two-day program given over to the formal opening of the eye clinic.

Dr. Joseph S. Ames, president of Johns Hopkins University, presided at the dedication. He was assisted by Dr. George E. Vincent, president of the Rockefeller Foundation; Herbert L. Satterlee, president of the William Holland Wilmer Foundation, and Mrs. Henry Breckinridge, who was instrumental in raising the greater portion of the $4,000,000 endowment on which the Wilmer Institute is founded.

Addresses tracing the growth of Mrs. Breckinridge's idea of a modern eye clinic and research laboratory, which she conceived while awaiting the results of an operation on her eyes at the Wilmer Institute, the greatest ophthalmic hospital in America, were made by Dr. Ames, Dr. Satterlee and Dr. Vincent.

Mrs. Breckinridge, her voice carrying clearly to an audience of more than 200 persons on a canopied stand in front of the building, told of the cooperation she had received from the 638 donors to

Comedy Actor Is Engaged To Mrs. Lita Grey Chaplin

Wedding Will Take Place Upon Expiration of Contracts.

Milwaukee, Oct. 15 (A.P.).—The engagement of Lita Grey Chaplin, former wife of Charlie Chaplin, to Phil Baker, who is playing with the "Pleasure Band" musical comedy company, here, has been announced.

The wedding will take place, they said, as soon as the contracts expire. Last night after theater performance Lita Chaplin arranged a party to which she invited a number of theatrical people playing in Milwaukee and announced her engagement. Previously Baker admitted he and Lita were "very dear friends."

Mrs. Chaplin has two sons, both by the noted screen comedian. They are Sydney and Charles, Jr. Her suit for divorce two and a half years ago was one of the most sensational trials Hollywood has known.

Following the granting of the divorce, Mrs. Chaplin returned to the stage, asserting that she had been "starved into the necessity of earning money to pay accumulated bills."

NARCOTIC RING HINTED BEHIND NURSE'S DEATH

Theory That She Knew Too Much Is Evolved in McPherson Case.

NEW SUSPECT MAY BE BROUGHT UNDER FIRE

Dismissal of Employees at Apartment House Is Source of Mystery.

NO SKULL FRACTURE SHOWN BY AUTOPSY

Evidence of Operation Is Not Disclosed; Analysis of Tissues Made.

Was Virginia Hurley McPherson slain "because she knew too much?"

Did the pretty young nurse hold information which threatened the safety or freedom of some criminal, who may have knotted the silken cord of her pajamas about her throat to prevent her from "telling the racket?"

Evidence is believed to have been given to the Department of Justice yesterday which would indicate that the girl, whose body was found on the floor of her Park Lane apartment on September 14, may have been strangled to guard the secrecy of dangerous information.

Exact nature of this information could not be learned last night. Several of the Federal operatives, utterly exhausted after devoting eighteen hours or more daily to solution of the mystery of Mrs. McPherson's death, were incommunicado as they snatched a few brief hours of sleep before resuming the grind today.

Other agents, busy gathering information outside the office, could not be located.

Narcotic Traffic Seen.

While the witness who is believed to have supplied this new evidence to the Department of Justice refused flatly to discuss what transpired in a lengthy interview with the Federal agents, it is understood that Mrs. McPherson may have inadvertently acquired some knowledge about the traffic in narcotics, as a result of which she came to her death.

Other information obtained previously by the Department of Justice, which for a time seemed difficult to classify, is now believed to fit in with this new information in a way which may do much to hasten the solution of the sensational mystery.

Mrs. McPherson's association as a nurse with the medical profession might easily bring her into possession of damaging information regarding the possible diversion of drugs into illegal channels, and it is indicated that some such situation existed, and that the attractive young nurse may have dropped a remark, whether by chance or in an effort to influence some other person to obey her commands, which stamped her as an enemy to be removed.

May Change Picture Entirely.

It is believed further that this new evidence may bring into the picture an entirely new suspect, and eliminate completely certain theories which the Department of Justice is believed to have been checking in its effort to find the slayer of Virginia McPherson, whose husband, Robert A. McPherson, Jr., is now in the District Jail under indictment for her murder.

Considerable significance is attached also to two other points of information which were disclosed yesterday.

Policeman Lawrence Botta was examined at length by the Government yesterday, this interview following closely upon a long conference between the Government and the Tariff Commission.

Allen has insisted consistently that on the night Virginia McPherson died, as he and Botta were passing the Park Lane, he saw a man emerge from the window of Mrs. McPherson's bedroom on the second floor.

Boots, on the other hand, has denied witnessing such incident, and it is believed that the purpose of the Federal investigation in interviewing him yesterday was to check up on a report that a high police official might have "discouraged" him from corroborating Allen's story.

Pressure From Higher-Ups.

The other fact learned by The Post was that several of the employees of the Park Lane are no longer employed there, having been discharged at various times during the past month.

So far as can be learned, the only explanation given these employees is that pressure has been brought from "headquarters," with no clarifying explanation as to what is meant by "headquarters." At the offices of the Joseph H. Hines Co., Inc., operators of the Park Lane, no one could be found who would admit knowledge of any changes in the personnel of the apartment. Mr. Hines, it was said, is out of the city, but others in the organization denied positively

TARIFF'S FOES BACK PLAN TO SPUR MEASURE

La Follette as Spokesman for Independents Calls Off Conferences.

DELAYING TACTICS NOT USED, HE SAYS

Smoot Indicates Night Sessions Are Needed to Speed Bill.

ACTION IS UNLIKELY BEFORE DECEMBER

Insurgent Republicans' View Echoed by Democrats; Six Clauses Voted.

(Associated Press.)

Negotiations between contending factions looking to an understanding to speed up Senate action on the tariff bill halted abruptly yesterday after the Republican independent opposition group decided that no agreement was necessary.

The Western Republicans, who have combined with a majority of the Democrats in opposing many of the administration provisions, took the position that no delaying tactics had been resorted to by any group or individuals thus far and that there was no proper ground either for asking for or consenting to an arrangement to limit debate.

All sides agreed there was no use attempting further conference, so the tariff bill apparently is destined to final settlement in the regular session beginning in December.

Six Amendments Voted.

As if sensing the failure of the group conference, the Senate put on speed yesterday and disposed of six amendments to the bill, but along came other developments to threaten further delay in reaching the rate schedule.

Senator Norris, of Nebraska, a leader of the Republican independent group, announced he would offer his report, debenture rider before the rates are taken up, and Chairman McNary, of the agriculture committee, said he would ask consideration today of the committee's report favoring confirmation of the members of the Federal Farm Board.

In view of opposition to three members, the debate on this report, if the tariff is sidetracked for it, might last several days.

McNary, however, said he thought it could be disposed of in five or six hours.

La Follette Explains Stand.

Senator La Follette, of Wisconsin, a spokesman for the Western Republicans, said after their meeting that the proponents of the bill had used as much time in debate as the opponents.

"Our attitude, therefore, remains unchanged," he said, "to wit, we are willing to facilitate action for the remainder of the discussion as we have so far in the proceedings."

This view was echoed by the Democrats, who said nothing further could be done except to give the Republican regular assurances that the opposition would do all it could to expedite the bill, provided ample opportunity was given to discuss various matters as they came up.

Smoot to Ask for Night Sessions.

Chairman Smoot indicated he would ask for night sessions soon in view of the turn of events.

One of the amendments adopted without a record vote yesterday provided for a complete reorganization of the Tariff Commission within 90 days after signature of the new tariff bill.

The bill, provided for the present continuance in office of the present six commissioners without their names being sent to the Senate.

The bill was modified at the suggestion of Chairman Smoot to make the limit 90 days, instead of 30. It would not prevent the President from reappointing any incumbent commissioner, but automatically would terminate the term of any commissioner for whom a successor had not been appointed within the three months' limitation.

McMaster Clause Passed.

By a vote of 47 to 29 the Senate also approved an amendment by Senator McMaster (Republican), South Dakota, providing that the Tariff Commission furnish members of Congress during consideration of a tariff bill information hereafter obtained relating to cost of production of any article under consideration if manufactured in this country.

Senator Reed (Republican), Pennsylvania, assailed the amendment on the ground that it would compel the commission to disclose information which the government had obtained from producers on the pledge that it would not be divulged to competitors.

The government had obtained such sources of information in the future.

Twenty-nine Democrats and eight Republicans voted for the proposal, while twenty-eight Republicans and one Democrat (Copeland, of New York) opposed it.

By a vote of 48 to 33 the Senate rejected an amendment by Senator Fletcher (Democrat), Florida, which would have exempted alligator skins from the provisions of the Cuban American Reciprocity Treaty, under which they now come in free.

TEXT OF ACCEPTANCE BY PARIS AWAITED AS KEY TO NAVY PARLEY

All Powers Give Notice They Will Take Part in Conference.

ROME NOTE RECEIVED, BUT NOT MADE PUBLIC

Japanese Reply Awaits Only Approval From Imperial Palace.

QUAI ACTS CAREFULLY IN DRAFTING ANSWER

Head of Japan's Delegation May Visit Washington on Way to London.

London, Oct. 15 (A.P.).—Unofficial acceptance by all countries of the invitation issued by Great Britain for a conference looking toward naval limitation to be held in London in January, had been received tonight.

The fact that the initial difficulty in arranging for the conference had been thus quickly surmounted gave general satisfaction here and great hopes were expressed that some of the inevitable difficulties in reaching eventual agreement may be smoothed away before the conference actually assembled.

The reply of Italy, announced as an acceptance, was handed to the foreign office today. The text was not made public, but it was understood to contain some reservations. The United States already had made public actual delivery of its acceptance.

Tokyo and Paris Approve.

From Tokyo and Paris today came word that the cabinets had approved of acceptance. The Japanese reply only awaits the sanction of the emperor, but that of France has yet to be elaborated. It was felt here that the French reply contained some reservations which in certain respects may be similar to those understood to have been made by Italy.

In sending out the invitations the British government had said that it was prepared to elucidate any point in the Anglo-American discussions desired and invited a free exchange of opinions by the governments previous to the conference. With the prolonged conversations with America already bearing fruit, it was felt here that some preliminary discussions might smooth away many of the international difficulties remaining.

London also was interested in the report that Japanese statesmen on their way to the conference might visit Washington for an exchange of views.

French Text Lags.

Paris, Oct. 15 (A.P.).—France has accepted Great Britain's invitation to the five-power naval conference in London next January, but her note of acceptance will not be sent to London and Washington for another week and perhaps ten days.

The principle of the acceptance was decided on at a cabinet council this morning, but only the broad outlines of the acceptance were discussed. The text will definitely be drawn up late this week.

Japan's acceptance does not seem to have hastened the work on the text at the French foreign office, which has not begun to edit it.

There are a number of points to be carefully covered, so that no room shall be left for misinterpretations.

Hope in Conversations.

Le Temps says tonight "all controversies are premature. The conversations between the interested governments from now to January will permit them to reach a basis for an understanding on many questions. Upon the question of the interdependence of the five powers."

Supreme Court May Fix Status of Rum Buyers

Philadelphia, Oct. 15 (A.P.).—Samuel O. Wynne, prohibition administrator for this district, announced today that because of conflicting opinions he would ask the Department of Justice to request a ruling from the Supreme Court of the United States on the right of prohibition agents to arrest purchasers of bootleg liquor.

In this Federal district the buyer of liquor from a bootlegger is immune from arrest as the result of a decision of the Circuit Court of Appeals. The United States attorney's office here announced that it would abide by this ruling.

On the other hand, Federal Judge Dawson at Louisville, Ky., has ruled that rum buyers violate the Volstead act and has asked Federal grand jurors to indict purchasers as well as sellers.

Form of Italian Reply Is Likewise Source of Sharp Interest.

RESERVATIONS MIGHT VOID WHOLE PROJECT

Officials Here, However, Think Briand Won't Bar Way to Agreement.

TRIPLE PACT LIKELY IF COLLAPSE COMES

Hoover and MacDonald Set on Treaty With Japan, Is Belief Here.

Official gratification over the French and Italian decisions to enter the five-power naval conference in London will not be complete until the texts of their acceptances disclose whether conditions are imposed that would prevent the making of a separate naval agreement irrespective of what the League of Nations may do later in working out a general land and air disarmament program.

Reassured by the friendly message which Premier Briand of France communicated to the State Department, expressing his satisfaction with the success of Prime Minister MacDonald's visit, Government officials are confident that France will not interpose advance conditions which would make a London agreement void or invalid unless included in a subsequent league program.

Reports that Premier Briand had told his Cabinet that no definite agreement will be made at London except as part of a general disarmament plan were construed, optimistically here, to mean that France adheres to her expected stand in demanding that a naval agreement should go hand in hand with general disarmament—that the whole is inseparable and interlocking.

Tripartite Pact Possible.

But officials here do not take the premier's attitude to mean that the naval agreement's effectiveness must wait upon subsequent league action. At least they fervently hope that this is not the French stand; or, if it is, that it will be modified to permit the writing of a conclusive, unconditional agreement at London.

Otherwise, they fear, the work of the last eight months will have been comparatively useless so far as getting immediate and comprehensive results is concerned.

President Hoover and Prime Minister MacDonald are believed to have agreed during their conversations here to proceed to a three-cornered treaty with Japan if France or Italy refuse to be bound until the league acts. But a tripartite agreement is far less satisfactory since Great Britain would insist upon a contingent clause calling for abandonment of the limitations imposed in case she felt it necessary to offset her construction by the sea powers which stayed out of the agreement. Thus, all that could be done at London, if Italy and France hold off pending league action, would be to write a compact to halt British, American and Japanese auxiliary craft construction only so long as France and Italy or their potential allies refrain from expansion.

Both Have Big Programs.

Both the French and Italian naval programs are understood here to be so large that the three-cornered arrangement would not last long, assuming these programs are carried out. Thus great importance is attached by officials here to unconditional French and Italian acceptance of the five-power invitations.

France rejected the Coolidge invitation to the Geneva conference of 1927 on two grounds. First, that her global tonnage thesis was supplanted by one calling for limitation by categories. She herself dropped her

Law Group Urges Revision Of Diplomatic Immunities

International Body, Meeting for First Time in United States, Declares Changing Customs Demand That Entire Code Be Remodeled.

Briarcliff Manor, N. Y., Oct. 15 (A.P.).—The need of revising the rules covering diplomatic immunities was stressed today at the conference of the Institute of International Law, which is meeting in the United States for the first time.

Although the institute has not touched upon the question of diplomatic immunity since 1895, when it suggested the rules that now are followed, it was pointed out that changing customs and evolution in international law now demand that the old regulations be revised.

Dr. David Jayne Hill, former assistant Secretary of State, chairman of the committee which presented suggested changes to the institute, asserted that in recent years there has been considerable abuse both as to who is entitled to immunity and how long the immunity lasts. The growing of commercial functions presents a new problem, he said. And development of international commerce and international expositions are creating a horde of agents and directors who are sent abroad as representatives of their countries. Such representatives, the institute decreed, are not entitled to diplomatic immunity, but in many cases have been granted such.

It was suggested also that servants of diplomats unless they were actually in service and in addition citizens of

RAILWAY GIVEN PERMIT

ARLINGTON COUNTY. BUREAU OF THE POST. Tel. Cl. 509. Clarendon, Va. Launching his campaign as a candidate for the House of Delegates, Louis A. MacMahon, Republican, speaking at the meeting of the Ashton Heights Citizens Association, which night declared that if elected he would work for the passage of a bill to reduce the automobile license fee, which he claimed is too high and causing general complaint.

"I stand on a platform pledging me to work for a reduction in the income tax election of the members of the Arlington County School Board by the people, giving the electoral board, instead of individual registration, the authority to determine a person's eligibility to register, better pay for school teachers and a reduction in the number of State officers so that their salaries may be saved for roads, schools and other much-needed improvements," said MacMahon.

Two years ago both my opponent and myself pledged our support, if elected, to passage of the enabling act. Not until the forty-ninth day of the last session did Mr. Reid introduce it, and then by request.

The act was planned to give to the people the right to choose for themselves the kind of government they shall have.

Reid, who was present, replying, said: "I was told by counsel for the county, which was fighting the annexation case, that passage of the bill would ruin the county's case; but, true to my pledge, I introduced it. While it is true many days had passed, there were many bills pending. I want the people of Arlington County to have a clearer form of government than they wish."

"One thing that I do favor is a broader budget law that will give to the people of the counties more information regarding what the tax money is being spent for. The trouble today is it is made up as a general contingent fund. One reason the people are losing confidence in their officials is because they are not fully informed as to how the funds are being expended," Reid said.

"I favor a reduction in the automobile tax, but I think it should be carried over a period of years and not too drastic."

"As for the gasoline tax, if that is cut there will have to be a reduction in road construction. The State is building many miles of roads now and until there is some means of raising the revenue, the roads will be no reduction in the gasoline tax."

"There is one thing that should be carefully considered, and that is the proposed change in distribution of the gasoline tax. I feel the counties should organize and work to ward off any heavy loss and feel that the State should be made to understand that no reduction in the gasoline tax."

that any employee had been discharged because of any connection with the McPherson case.

The discharged employee, however, are being given most excellent recommendations. It is understood. Also, so far as can be learned, all of the discharged employees are convinced that Mrs. McPherson was slain and do not accept the theory that she may have taken her own life.

No Fracture Shown.

The autopsy performed on the body of Mrs. Virginia Hurley McPherson at the University of North Carolina, N. C., Monday and taken to the hospital at Richmond, Va., showed no evidence of a fractured skull or any other injury.

Dr. James I. Bullitt, professor of medicine at the University of North Carolina, is now engaged in a chemical analysis of the blood removed from the body with a view to determining if there are any traces of poison.

The autopsy could be obtained yesterday from agents of the Department of Justice in Washington. They declined to discuss the matter.

Body Taken From Grave.

The body of the pretty young nurse was exhumed from its grave in the Greenlawn Cemetery in China Grove, N. C., on Monday and taken to the hospital at Richmond, Va., for an examination.

Six of the leading surgeons of North Carolina, including Dr. Bullitt and Dr. J. W. Smith, of Salisbury, health officer of Rowan County, performed the autopsy, which was to check the findings of the coroner's autopsy here shortly after the body was found.

Other Conditions Suspected.

The theory had been advanced that a second autopsy might reveal various conditions not revealed at the first autopsy. It was believed that an important effect in determining the manner of Mrs. McPherson's death.

Illinois College Passes Centenary

Hoover Sends Felicitations and President of Yale Speaks.

JACKSONVILLE, Ill., Oct. 15 (A.P.)—Greetings from President Hoover and an address by the President of Yale University today ushered in the second centenary of Old Illinois College. The institution was founded by a group of seven young theological students of Yale in 1809.

I cordially congratulate you and your coworkers of Illinois College upon the centenary of this educational institution, which has been a part of the history of your State and of the Nation and so usefully occupied with the development of the minds and characters of youth.

President Hoover to President Charles Rammekamp of the college. "I wish you long continuance of this high service."

Degrees were conferred upon fourteen candidates, including Dr. Ruth Eldred Fairbank, Baltimore, Md., doctor of arts; Louis Eleazar Lord, Oberlin, Ohio, doctor of humane letters; Edgar Edward Brown, Baltimore, Md., doctor of science; Everett Dean Martin, New York, doctor of letters; John Milton Phillips, Akron, Ohio, doctor of law; and Charles Howard Sturtevant, Yale University, doctor of humane letters, and James Rowland Angell, president of Yale University, doctor of law.

President Angell, of Yale, was on "The Contribution of the American College to Our National Life."

Jury by Judge Harry R. Thomas. Bond was fixed at $500.

The Arlington County Monarch Club will hold its weekly luncheon meeting tomorrow in the Boulevard Bakery at Clarendon at 12 o'clock. President Walter U. Varney will preside.

Election of officers will be conducted at the meeting of the Women's Club of Lyon Park to be held tonight in the community house at 8 o'clock.

The monthly meeting of the executive committee of the Arlington County Civic Federation will be held tomorrow night at the home of Harry Fellows, in East Falls Church.

The special committee of the Arlington County Civic Federation having charge of arrangements for a card party in the rooms of the Arlington County Chamber of Commerce announced last night that the party will be held in the Lyon Park Community House Monday night, October 28. ## ACTON WAIVES HEARING

"We are not going to insist anybody. All we want to do is establish that the proper authorities."

As for corruption in the local government, Bleas said that he was convinced that if there were any it was among the "higher-ups." His idea of corruption, the explosive South Carolinian said, was not sporadic grafting and bribe-taking, but the collection of spoils in a systematic and organized way.

"Now you take a prohibition agent," Bleas said. "You couldn't get me to investigate a charge that a prohibition agent accepted graft. Why certainly he would. Anybody that is low enough to be a prohibition agent, certainly would be low enough to take graft."

Senator Vandenberg (Republican), of Michigan, a member of the subcommittee yesterday answered reports that he was loathe to go ahead with the investigation by saying that he was prepared to play his part whenever the subcommittee is ready.

"It will have to be secondary with me," Vandenberg said. "Because of my work in connection with the traffic, I think that anybody will admit the traffic is more important than a situation existing in the local Police Department."

"However, I realize that Congress is Washington's city council, and I am ready to do my part in fixing what, if anything, is wrong here. There does seem to be something wrong, but I do not think the city is as bad as some say. Again, there probably are some officials who are at fault, but nobody can tell me that they are all bad. In any event, the investigation we are about to have would seem to be necessary, if only to clear the atmosphere."

senior warden, G. M. Walter, third-degree; junior warden, B. D. Albright, third-degree; warden, J. H. Kretschmer, third-degree; treasurer, W. M. Poindexter, third-degree; and warden, W. A. Royter, third-degree; expect to be at the hearing.

Charles Richard Acton waived the formality of a preliminary hearing when he appeared in court yesterday morning on a charge of murder, and his case was referred to the grand jury.

A long list of free attractions, including vaudeville, acrobatic and trapeze performances and trained animal shows, will be given in front of the grand stand between the races. The following superintendents and judges started to award premiums at noon today: Mrs. J. H. Stuffer, Mrs. Raymond L. Smith, Mrs. Ira J. McCarty, Mrs. W. B. Cuthall, Mrs. Harry M. Special to The Washington Post.

Baltimore, Md., Oct. 15.—Gov. Albert C. Ritchie today wrote to J. Frank Parzan, State's attorney for Prince Georges County, advising him of the investigation made by Harvey R. Baker, of the commissioner of motor vehicles' office, into the alleged shooting, pursuit and search by Constable Walter P. Good of a stolen automobile operated by William R. Acker, of Washington, on the Washington boulevard the night of October 4.

Charges of assault against Good will be heard at Upper Marlboro tomorrow. Acker swore out a warrant against the officer after a conference with Parzan. As the warrant charged Acker with reckless driving and exceeding the speed limit.

The affair naturally caused me a great deal of concern," the governor wrote, "because I have felt satisfaction in the fact that the promiscuous and reckless shooting with its danger to human life which is so often indulged in by Federal prohibition officers has not, so far as I recall, been practiced by officers in this State."

Gov. Ritchie said Acker told Baker that he was ordered to stop by two men in another car and when he sped up, not knowing who they were, two shots were fired. Acker's car was forced into a ditch and while one man covered him with a pistol, another searched the car and finally told him to go on when no liquor was found. The men did not say for what they were looking nor why Acker was stopped.

Constable Good told Baker, the governor said, that he was looking for a liquor car and believed the machine driven by Acker to be the one. When the auto failed to stop, Good said, he fired two shots in the air, forced the machine to stop and then searched it. Finding no liquor, Good said, he told Acker he regretted the mistake.

"I am requesting Mr. Baker to attend the trial and put at your disposal all the information he has," Gov. Ritchie said in his letter, "and course, that the exact facts about this affair will be disclosed and made public and that whatever action they call for will be taken. For this reason I do not think it would be appropriate for me to make any further comments at this time."

Despondent Man Leaps
Six Stories to Death

Memphis, Tenn., Oct. 15 (A.P.).—W. D. Hogan, 31, Louisville, leaped to his death from the seventh floor of a downtown hotel here this afternoon. Stock market crash had left him despondent, it was learned. He was found in his room, strangled.

He wrote directions for disposal of his body and left a letter addressed to his wife and opened by police. "I am sorry," he wrote, "but I have decided to take my own life. I am sorry to leave you and the children. I am sorry to leave you and the children. I am sorry to leave you and the children."

They Call It Politics

By CARTER FIELD

THE unfavorable news from France has not dimmed President Hoover's enthusiasm with respect to the London naval limitation conference on which he and Premier MacDonald agreed. Neither Mr. Hoover nor Mr. MacDonald expected a 100 per cent achievement at the London conference of all their aspirations.

The truth is that both men were confident when the British premier left Washington that they had approached so close to an accord that they could prevent much good coming from the conference.

France's attitude is now represented to be a disinclination to accept as final whatever agreements may be reached at London. She wants the decisions of that meeting to be merely advisory. It will be recalled that France and Italy both declined to attend the Geneva conference, of Shearer fame, which had really been investigated by President Coolidge.

Actually the same problems confront France and Italy now which made them loath to attend the Geneva conference. The position of France is almost precisely reversed from what it was when she blocked any limitation upon submarines at the Washington conference seven years ago.

At that time France was engaged in an altercation with Great Britain over the treatment to be accorded Germany. France was still very fearful of a quickly restored powerful neighbor. She was making every conceivable move to keep Germany crushed.

Britain, on the other hand, with her unemployment and dole problems eating at her vitals, was eager for the quickest possible restoration in Germany, believing that a prosperous Germany would provide her work-shops with a market.

Now, with the reparations problem settled and British troops leaving the Rhine, there is no longer the serious difference between Britain and France that there was then. But Italy, under Mussolini, has grown not only stronger but more menacing, particularly as she has naval bases which threaten the French line of communications to north Africa.

The possibility of submarines operating against this line of communications is giving the French a great deal of worry, especially as Mussolini continues to make threatening speeches, talking about the necessity by 1935 of Italy being so strong that her voice shall be heard, about having enough airplanes to darken the sky, and about naval strength.

the country from which the mission came, be granted no immunity. The envoys' immunity, however, was withheld until tomorrow. One of the principal questions arising was the one in preference to whether immunity starts before the time the diplomat has been officially received by the country in which he is to serve. While there was some question in regard to the character of the immunity the diplomat should receive during the period before he reaches the country, it was agreed that he should receive at least some special protection even before he is received by that government.

Nadir Khan Designated
Emir of Afghanistan

Tarame, U. S. S. R., Oct. 15 (A.P.).—Nadir Khan, who recently overthrew Afghan usurper, Habibullah, from the throne, was proclaimed Emir of Afghanistan today. The news came from Kabul capital of Afghanistan, to this Russian border city.

Nadir Khan's capture of Kabul, putting a climax to his defeat of Habibullah, left the way open for recall of the deposed and exiled Amanullah, who is living in Italy. Nadir, who was once a supporter of Amanullah, has apparently settled the question by taking the throne himself.

NEWS OF LATEST HAPPENINGS IN MARYLAND AND VIRGINIA

GRAND JURY URGES
ROADHOUSE WATCH

Police of Prince Georges Are Advised to Spend Less
Time on Speeders.

WOULD ADD TO FORCE

Recommendation that county officers keep a closer check on roadhouses and gambling resorts in Prince Georges County and pay less attention to speeding and other traffic offenses on the State highways was contained in the final report of the October term grand jury filed yesterday in Circuit Court at Upper Marlboro.

Recommendations also were made that two more policemen be added to the county force, that a comprehensive study be made of the policing situation in the county and that an assistant and stenographer be allowed J. Frank Parran, State's attorney.

"The jury believes," says the report, "that there is unnecessary disorder in several sections of the county, particularly near the District of Columbia boundary, much of which may be attributed to the presence of roadhouses and questionable resorts. Closer surveillance over such places should be exercised by the police authorities."

Reminder of Shooting.

In connection with the above the following resolutions were passed:

"We find that the police force does not patrol adequately certain sections of the county, which means that it is not of sufficient size. We recommend, therefore, that the county commissioners appoint two more policemen from these sections for their protection."

"We find that much of the crime in this county may be attributed to the presence of roadhouses. We recommend, therefore, that the sheriff and his officers visit these places more frequently and see that they are conducted in an orderly manner, or else that they be closed. In order that this may be accomplished, we suggest that less attention be paid to speeding and other traffic offenses of the State highways."

A reminder of the Acker incident, in which William B. Acker, Washington law student, was fired on by a county constable from whom he was fleeing, believing the constable a highwayman, is seen in the recommendation of the grand jury that "all officers wear their badges conspicuously on the outside of their coats."

Ask Modern Police Force.

It is also recommended that earnest consideration be given the question of providing adequate hospital facilities for the county, and attention is called to the need of a new almshouse. It is suggested that the latter might be erected in connection with the hospital.

The policing survey of the county, the grand jury says, should be conducted with a view to establishment of a modern police department, commensurate with the requirements of a rapidly growing suburban territory.

The jury reports that they have examined 58 cases, returning 41 true bills, with 12 ignored and 5 dismissed for lack of witnesses. The jury says that the county jail was found in a clean and orderly condition, but it recommends that further provision be made for the separation of male and female prisoners.

New Indictments Found.

In addition to the other indictments previously handed in, the following as true bills were returned: James H. Colbert, assault with intent to kill; Jeremiah Hawkins, assault with intent to kill; assault and battery; Leo Hawkins, George E. Rawlings, larceny and receiving stolen goods; James H. Colbert, assault with intent to rob, simple assault; Dun Miles, Abraham Williams, Henry Beatty, robbery receiving stolen goods; assault with intent to rob, assault and battery; Frank Thomas Queen, criminal assault; Dun Miles, assault with intent to kill, assault and battery.

The Prince Georges County Commissioners, in session yesterday at Upper Marlboro, approved extension of the County road along the route of the present county road. The work is to be done under direction of the State roads commission. By this action the commissioners reverse their previous attitude on the matter.

The action yesterday was taken after a delegation from the affected territory protested to the commissioners the proposal to build the road direct, that is, through Taylor to Davis Crossroads. The protesting citizens pointed out that such a route would make it necessary to maintain two roads, inasmuch as many persons lived on the present county road it would be unfair to close it.

The delegation included R. Sasser, accompanied the delegation, as did Henry L. Morris, Prince Georges County delegate to the State Legislature. The delegation included Rice Booe, Thomas Garner, William Garner and Miss Agnes Duval, county social worker.

The commissioners also directed that a letter be addressed to the Pennsylvania Railroad, requesting that the grade crossing at Arundel Station be reopened. A request of the Pennsylvania Railroad, requesting that the grade crossing at Arundel Station be reopened, was refused by the commissioners. A subsequent inspection revealed that the crossing had been closed, "apparently for some length of time," said one of the commissioners.

The commissioners also called attention yesterday to the fact that all residents of the county who wish to participate in the county and State elections, and who are not already registered, must declare their intention between now and November 6. This declaration must be made by all newcomers to the State and can be made before any registration office.

Under direction of Miss Ruth Tighe, county school nurse, a three-month course in nutrition is being planned, to be conducted by the Prince Georges chapter of the Red Cross. This work, which will cover a period of three months, is to begin on January 1. A permit obtained with the knowledge of the plaintiff, to reinter the body. The cemetery company was represented by H. Hampton Magruder, George P. McCarty and Paul R. Kach appeared for the plaintiff.

A group of Maryland farmers from Montgomery, Prince Georges, Alleghany, Anne Arundel, Baltimore, Carroll, Frederick, Garrett, Harford, Howard and Washington Counties will make a tour of inspection of the New York City market terminals October 27, 28 and 29. This announcement was made yesterday by Dr. F. B. Bomberger, chief of the Maryland State Department of Markets.

County agents and extension specialists will accompany the visiting Marylanders.

Dr. F. B. Bomberger has issued an appeal to the Maryland potato growers to abide by the recommendations made by the interstate early potato committee and hold the Maryland acreage to 14,000 acres in 1930.

County Superintendent of Schools Orem yesterday announced that teachers who wish to attend the Friday session of the Maryland State Teachers Association will dismiss their classes for that date. The association is to meet in Baltimore October 25 and 26.

Mrs. J. Enos Ray has been named as a member of the almshouse commission authorized by the Legislature of 1929. Gov. Albert C. Ritchie yesterday announced the appointment. The commission is to make a survey of county almshouses and inquire into the advisability of erecting two central State almshouses. The commission is to report back to the Legislature in 1931.

VIRGINIA UNIVERSITY
BARS LATE DANCES

Social Events Consuming
Most of Night Called Detrimental.

CAMPUS MOVIES BANNED

Special to The Washington Post.
Charlottesville, Va., Oct. 15.—Post-graduate dances, hitherto quite a feature in the social life of University of Virginia students, have been banned by authorities of that institution.

At a meeting of the president and administrative council, a resolution was adopted forbidding the giving or sponsoring of such dances, save when specially authorized by the dean of the university or other competent authority.

The council expressed the opinion that these student dances, beginning at a late hour and extending substantially through the remainder of the night, whether within the precincts of the university or in chapter houses or in the university community, are detrimental to the best interests of the students and of the institution.

The council, at the same session, passed an order prohibiting the making or taking of any moving pictures, whether by students or other persons, at any place within the jurisdiction of the university authorities, without written consent of the president or his assistant, or of the dean of the university, or of such other official as may be named by the president or by the board of visitors for that purpose.

No student, says the resolution, shall participate in the making or production, or exhibition of moving pictures which, in the opinion of the administrative council, tend to bring the university or its faculty or student life into public disrepute.

Disruptive, alleged to have been brought to the grounds last year, is cited as the cause of the order.

Milk at Martinsburg
To Cost 1 Cent More

Special to The Washington Post.

Martinsburg, W. Va., Oct. 15.—The price of milk will be advanced from 12 to 13 cents a quart to the retail trade here November 1 by agreement of distributors. It was announced today. Pints will sell for 7 cents.

Reasons for the increase include droughty pasture conditions which made more imported feed necessary, increased handling costs as a result of recently declared regulations by the health unit, and the opportunity to sell milk at better prices at wholesale for shipment to the cities.

NORTHERN VIRGINIA
FIELD TRIALS CLOSE

Winners Are Announced in Fairfax County's

BLACKLEG KILLS CATTLE

FAIRFAX BUREAU OF THE POST.
Clarendon, 919-J-1.

Yesterday marked the closing of the fifth annual fall trial of the Northern Virginia Amateur Field Trial Association. These trials were started Monday on the farm of P. W. Huddleston, about 6 miles west of Fairfax Court House. About 20 dogs were entered in the events Monday. These dogs were valued at prices ranging from $500 to $2,000. The winners of the first day's events were: Derby class, first, Lindy Detour, owned by Allen Valentine, Richmond; second, Kengla's Merry Lark, owned by C. H. Alexander, Ware Neck, Va.; third, Velocity, owned by V. F. Hawes, Harrisonburg.

The bench show was held Monday evening in Herndon. The winners were: First, pointer male, Shellfield Proctor Bob, owned by J. W. Dorsey Cook, Potomac Beach; second, Ferris Jake's Jim, owned by H. B. Mitchell, Herndon; third, Gray Alexandria, owned by A. M. Pullen, Richmond.

The pointer, female class, was won by Queen Shenandoah, owned by F. S. Miller, Winchester.

Female setter class—First, Queen, owned by A. B. Stieratt, Nutley, N. J.; second, Little Liza Jane, owned by E. R. Colbert, Fredericksburg; third, Happy Eugene Beauty, owned by Bernard Kelly, Herndon.

Yesterday's entries in the members' derby for all ages consisted of 14 starters in the first series and six in the second. The first prize was won by Colbert's Momoney Vampire, owned by E. R. Colbert, Fredericksburg; second, Ferris Jake's Jim, owned by H. B. Mitchell, Herndon; third, Joe Brown, owned by Robert R. Barnett, Charlottesville.

These were the most successful field trials ever held in this section of the country. There were more than thirty entries and game was exceedingly plentiful. The trials were judged by Thomas P. Baldwin, of Washington, and Matthew Trimble, Jr., of Kensington, Md. New York State, New Jersey, Pennsylvania and West Virginia had representatives at the trials.

Meals were served to the hunters by the Fournightly Club of Herndon, in the basement of the Congregational Church, in Herndon.

State Probation Inspector Virgil Williams and Deputy Sheriff G. Wilson Darr located a small still buried in the honeysuckle about two miles south of Fairfax yesterday afternoon. The still was complete in every detail, but had not been in operation for some time. It was of about 20-gallon capacity. The still was seized and brought to the Fairfax County Jail.

Funeral services of Charles E. Zoll, 66 years old, of Fairfax County, who died early Sunday morning, will be held at his home near Chantilly, Va. this afternoon. The services will be conducted by the Rev. William Mar-

CONSTABLE INDICTED
IN FATAL SHOOTING

What might have been a serious outbreak among cattle was discovered on the public pastures in the vicinity of Andrew Chapel and several animals died. It is believed that it was due to not burning or deeply burying the first animal that died. There is a fine of $25 for leaving dead animals exposed on property. Nearly 300 animals were vaccinated on 40 surrounding farms, and it is hoped that no more deaths will occur. All animals from 3 months to 2 years old should be vaccinated, experts say, although it was formerly believed that those under 6 months were immune. Those vaccinated under 6 months must be revaccinated after they become 6 months old, as the immunity at that early age is not guaranteed.

A reception will be given the new teachers tonight by the Annandale School and Community League, following the regular business meeting. Willie Snipes, chairman of the school committee, and Miss Marie Creel, chairman of the social committee, will be in charge of the entertainment.

Forces of County Engineer F. N. Larkin have started to replace the roof of the old Fairfax Court House. This work is being done according to plans authorized by the board of supervisors of the county. The old roof will be removed and a new one will be built nearly like the original.

More than 20 boys have been enrolled in the agricultural class in the Oakton School. The class is being conducted by W. R. Crabill, who makes three trips each week to the school from his headquarters at Florida. He will make summer inspection trips to the homes of the boys.

The Falls Church Kappa Sigma Pi will hold a meeting in the Presbyterian Church Hall tonight. Five new members will be initiated. The visiting team from the Clarendon Chapter will assist.

The fire alarm from Ocean View was found to be unsatisfactory and was returned. Efforts are now being made to obtain one from some other place. Yesterday several members of Fairfax Fire Department journeyed to Manassas to inspect the two sirens which that town now has. If they are found satisfactory, the local department may attempt to purchase

MARTINSBURG MAN IS JAILED
After Alleged Fight at Gas Station.

Special to The Washington Post.
Martinsburg, W. Va., Oct. 15.—Constable Joe Kane was indicted by the Berkeley County grand jury here today for the killing of Kenny Williams, 24, a Virginian, at Kane's gas filling station near here three weeks ago, during a fight between Kane and an associate and Williams, and some of his friends. Kane was committed to jail immediately after the slaying and went directly to the grand jury without preliminary hearing.

GRAND JURY ENDS WORK

Special to The Washington Post.

He is alleged to have gone to his home and secured a revolver, and to have shot the Virginian, who was in this county in connection with the annual migration of Virginia apple pickers here. Harvey Faircloth, said to have aided with Kane, was wounded by one of Kane's deflected shots, it is alleged, and took hospital treatment here. The Kane indictment was one of one of them for use here, if the price can be agreed upon.

Ladies Auxiliary of the Falls Church Fire Department will hold a chicken and roast beef dinner in the Old Fellows Hall tomorrow night. The proceeds will be used to purchase running coats for the men. The dinner will be followed by dancing from 9 to 12. The proceeds of the dance will be used for the Firemen's Band.

The Baptist Church of Clifton, will hold a church supper tonight in the church. The proceeds will be used in having the walls of the church redecorated. The Ladies Auxiliary will be in charge.

Man Tries to Kill Self,
Then Gets Doctor's Aid

As in everything else, a man who decides to commit suicide has a right to change his mind, as did William George of Prince Georges County. George walked into Emergency Hospital last night and told attendants that he had been trying to kill himself all day by consuming sugar of lead, but that he had decided to live if he could.

Physicians pumped out George's stomach, and a short while later sent him home with a much more optimistic outlook on life. The patient said that he had taken the sugar of lead a teaspoonful at a time.

A small cash payment puts any household model in your home immediately. And we'll arrange the balance to suit your convenience. We're prepared to make Frigidaire so easy to buy that you can't afford to be without it another day.

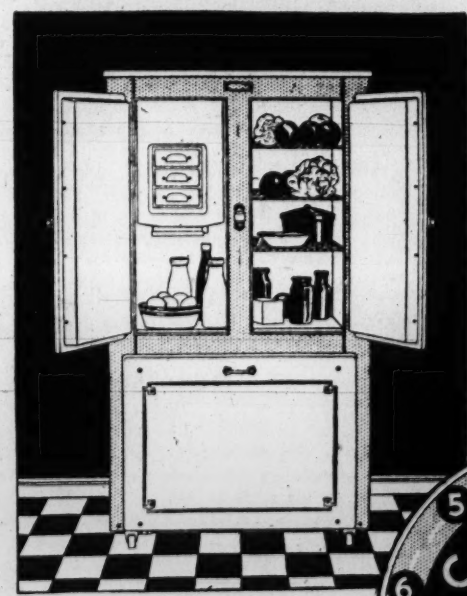

And remember that any Frigidaire you buy on these liberal terms is a new Frigidaire—the very latest model—a model that gives you all the improvements that have added immeasurably to Frigidaire values.

On any model you select you'll get the famous Frigidaire "Cold Control" which speeds the freezing of sparkling ice cubes and makes possible delicious and unusual frozen salads and desserts. You'll get the surplus power of the Frigidaire compressor that keeps food fresher, longer. You'll get incredibly quiet operation. You don't hear Frigidaire start, stop, or run. Note the striking beauty of the cabinets—with all mechanism completely concealed. Note too, the convenient arrangement of the food shelves that can be reached without stooping.

You have only to examine Frigidaire to realize the value we are offering—value made even more apparent by our unusually liberal terms. Get all the details ... today. Call at our showroom or phone for our representative.

IN THE PLAYHOUSE

By JOHN J. DALY

Owen Davis has written another play. There is, of course, no news in this—except that the new play, "Dread," is coming to the Belasco Theater next week. At this stage of the game, Mr. Davis holds the marathon record for playwriting. He has to his credit some 150 operas, more or less, from "Bertha, the Sewing Machine Girl" to "Toebound," a Pulitzer prize play. Howard Benedict, ahead of the latest Davis offering, tells this story to illustrate how fast the old master writes. Some one called Owen Davis on the telephone. "I'm sorry," said Mrs. Davis, "but Mr. Davis has just started a new play." The voice on the other end of the wire: "Oh, that's all right, I'll hold the line."

for $6,000.

Santa Fe, N. M., Oct. 15 (A.P.).—El Santuario de Nuestro Señor de Esquipula, the little, old church of the miracles, at Chimayo and one of the historic landmarks of Catholicism in America, today was purchased by the Catholic Church with $6,000 supplied by an anonymous alumnus of Yale University. The purchase check was delivered today to Don Jose Chavez, owner of the property, by Archbishop Albert T. Deger in the presence of a group of interested persons.

The little church has been a Mecca for pilgrims for three-quarters of a century and the earth from under the chapel was supposed to have miraculous healing powers. For years this earth was doled to the believing for relief of their ills.

A short time ago the existence of the church was threatened by plans of the Chavez family to sell the property for commercial purposes. Some of the interior decorations of the church were sold.

did for the legitimate stage. His crash hit, in the all-talkie field, was "The Last of Mrs. Cheney." Week after next Cliff comes back to town as director of the new Anna Nichols' comedy, "She Walked Home," which is scheduled to have its premiere here at Poli's Theater.

Premieres are getting to be quite the thing in Washington these days.

Howard Thurston, noted magician, is sending along his own play, "The Dervon," for its first showing here next Sunday night. Thurston himself will not be in the cast, but Mr. Bonnevillie, manager of Poli's has set aside "two on the side" for the author-magician and his daughter. Since ghosts and ghouls and whatnot are so popular on the stage these days, Thurston, with his gift of magic, should certainly be able to show the boys and girls something approaching a thrill.

"Where are the beloved actresses of yesterday?" queries Capt. James P. McGovern, and accounts for one, Angela McCall, by saying she is now Mrs. Henry S. Chatfield, wife of the wealthy manufacturer over New Jersey way. As Angela McCall, her maiden and stage name, Mrs. Chatfield originated the role of the mother in St. John Ervine's celebrated play of Irish life, "John Ferguson," and was seen here in the role at the National Theater along about 1921. Later she toured the country in "Mixed Marriages," and other plays, and was once associated with Jane Cowell, in a supporting role in "Malvolia." At one time in her stage career Mrs.

Chatfield was with the Irish Players. She has come to town to join her husband, who is prominently identified with the National Paint, Oil & Varnish Association now in convention here. "Through with the stage is she?" Capt. McGovern was asked. "Yep," he said, "two lovely children and a wonderful husband are her main interests in life." So, the foot-lights are not everything.

Several of the new plays that started here this year are going over big in New York, notably "Venus Moon," the satire on the song-writing game. "Twas Ring Lardner who conceived the idea for this monumental comedy and George S. Kaufmann who put the finishing touches to it, in a big dramatic way—so the intelligence offices report.

Out in Front as usual— AMOCO-GAS chosen for the speedway demonstration of the CORD Front DRIVE

NO car has received more attention--aroused more interest--created more excitement in motoring circles than the new Cord Front Drive--America's first production front drive motor car.

When Teefy-Seltz Company, Inc., of Philadelphia, Cord distributors through a large part of four Middle Atlantic States called their dealers together for the first showing of the first front drive car--it was AMOCO-GAS, the first special motor fuel which supplied the power for the demonstrations.

And Mr. Wm. D. Teefy, President of Teefy-Seltz Co., Inc., tells us in a recent letter:

"AMOCO-GAS was used exclusively during this series of special demonstrations. The Cord car performed exceptionally well and AMOCO-GAS should rightfully be given its share of the credit."

Front drive or rear drive--new car or old car--when you want to see any motor at its best--watch its performance with AMOCO-GAS!

Excerpts of 'Carmen' on Air Tonight

Grand Opera Selections
Among Varied Medleys
Over WRC at 9:30.
Old South Spirituals at 10:30 Over WMAL.

A program of selections varying from popular ballads of the day to excerpts from Bizet's "Carmen," will be presented during the Palmolive Hour which will be heard over a coast-to-coast system, including WRC, at 9:30 o'clock. Gustave Hansen directs the following program:

"Dixie Jamboree," ensemble; "Deep in My Heart," soprano and tenor duet, Olive Palmer and Paul Oliver; "What You Do," orchestra; "Hallelujah," Revere; "Polonaise," orchestra; "Mignon," Thomas, soprano solo; Olive Palmer, soprano; "Rhapsody Espana," orchestra; "Songs My Mother Taught Me," Dvorak, tenor solo, Paul Oliver; "Rhapsody in Blue," Gershwin, Revere; "Merry College Marches," orchestra; excerpts from "Carmen," ensemble; "When I Was Seventeen," soprano solo, Olive Palmer; "When Niccolò," soprano solo, Paul Oliver; "Little Pal," tenor solo, Paul Oliver; "Swanee Buttery," Revere; "Silver Threads Among the Grass," soprano and contralto duet; "Lone Troubadour," orchestra; "Rose Marie," ensemble.

The National Grand Opera Co. will broadcast Bizet's "Carmen" through WEAF and associated stations, but not WRC, at 11 o'clock. Cesare Sodero, conductor, will conduct, with Devora Nadworney, contralto, singing the leading role of "Carmen," who was not broadcast on October 2, as previously announced, because of the fields-Dundee fight.

Granados and Albeniz, two of the most interpretive of modern Spanish composers, supply the selections which the Mobilio Orchestra, directed by Erno Rappe, will broadcast at 8 o'clock from WRC. Douglas Claburn, baritone, will sing Granados' "Song of the Poet" as the feature of the program.

"Don't Ever Leave Me," the blues song which Helen Morgan sings in the musical show, "Sweet Adeline," will be played by the Happy Wanderers when they broadcast under the direction of Frank Blum at 9 o'clock. Black's arrangement of other popular airs and a flute and clarinet "set of Blues" by "Sinfonietta" will round out the program.

The Troubadours will feature Arthur Schitt, their composer-pianist, when they broadcast at 9 o'clock.

The works of three brilliant composers of the eighteenth century, comprise the program which Ludwig Lurrier and a string ensemble will broadcast during the period of Sunday Music at 11:15 o'clock: "Overture to 'Le Nozze di Figaro,'" Gluck; "Bourree from 'Violin Sonata,'" Bach; "Serenade," Mozart, and an aria from "Orpheus," Gluck.

Senator Gerald P. Nye, of North Dakota, will broadcast "The Final Sight Amendment" in a 15-minute talk from the studios of Station WRC at 8 o'clock.

A half-hour with the Edith Reed Entertainers will be a high light of WRC's program at 6:15 o'clock. Frances Fallon, mezzo-contralto, will be heard at 7 o'clock.

Another program of spirituals and songs of the Old South to be sung by the Dixie Echoes, broadcast at 9:30 o'clock from WMAL, will include "I Thank God I'm Here at Last," "Who Built de Ark?" "Little David, Play on Your Harp," and "Roll Dem Cotton Bolls."

"The Coming Day" is the title of the Show Boat program, to be heard between 11 o'clock and midnight. This will be followed by a DX request program by Stanley Bell and Les Colvin.

The Brown University Band will be featured during the Knicker Radio Hour from WMAL at 10 o'clock. Two medleys of Brown songs are the main attraction.

This side of a Wall of Darkness

In most purchases the decision-to-buy, and the buying, occur on the same day . . . and the decision is apt to be made in the morning

BETWEEN yesterday and today stands a wall of darkness. Few of yesterday's plans are carried over, unaltered, into today.

And today's program is made this morning. It is made during those early hours when we are fresh, rested, alert. It is made before we have used the day's supply of early-morning Vita-Minutes. It is made (and, often, modified) as we read the morning Post.

Is the alert advertiser aware of how much influence the morning paper has in making and modifying buying-decisions? He is. He prefers to talk to buyers who are fresh and rested rather than to buyers who are preoccupied and tired.

He prefers to talk to buyers who are on their way to market.

All that the Post has to offer such advertisers can't be expressed in terms of circulation-figures that run into thousands. Neither does coverage (Washington and surrounding territory) tell the whole story. Nor does the impressive buying-power of morning Post readers which goes to those families that do most of the buying in this great market.

You have to add this important fact—important alike to the buyer of display or classified advertising: The Post is read during the morning hours which are made of Vita-Minutes, not to be replaced at another time of day.

RUSSIANS OCCUPY
MANCHURIA TOWNForce of 800 Crosses River
After Bombardment of Two Days.

SHIPS REPORTED SUNK

Tokyo, Oct. 15 (A.P.).—Chinese official dispatches received here report that Soviet land and water forces struck Sunday night and Monday morning at the confluence of the Amur and Sungari rivers along the Manchurian frontier in one of the heaviest blows they have yet delivered.

Reports agree that a Russian force estimated at 800 men crossed the Amur River Sunday night under the cover of artillery fire and occupied the town of Linkiangshien on Chinese territory. There have been no reports of a Russian withdrawal, and it was therefore thought possible that the attack differed from previous border raids in that no attempt was made to hold hostile territory.

While one Chinese report asserted that the Russians sank three Chinese gunboats, drowning in all 500 men of their crews, the official Chinese communication did not mention any sinkings, merely saying the "Chinese squadron was obliged to withdraw up the Sungari River to Fuglin." The commander of the Manchurian "navy" hastened to that point in order to organize the Chinese forces.

Late dispatches to the Japanese news agency, Renzo, indicated that Soviet artillery began bombardment of the Chinese bank of the Amur River on October 11, increasing its violence on October 13, which was the night that the main attack was launched.

WHOZIT?

("WHOZIT?" is a test of your knowledge of history and current events. The statements below describe a character whom you should be able to identify. Match your knowledge and memory against those of your friends.)

1. He was an American.
2. He held a high military office during the Civil War.
3. He held high offices in the American diplomatic service.
4. He was the author of several books, one of which is based on the life of Christ and has been adapted to the stage and to motion pictures.

Answer to yesterday: The late Martin Madden, former chairman of the House committee on appropriations.

SALES OF NEW YORK STOCK EXCHANGE

Payment of $300,000,000 in Profits Gives Strength to Investment Demand.

RAILS LEAD INCREASE

New York, Oct. 15 (A.P.)—A good investment demand came into the stock market today as upward of $300,000,000 in dividends and interest was distributed by corporations, and prices moved higher. Time money again provided an impetus to favorable sentiment, for the rates on the longer maturities were quoted at 7 1/2 to 7 3/4 per cent, against yesterday's flat rate of 8.

The rails were well supported, particularly the loans with high yields. Advances of a point or more were numerous in this basic group, the average for which has improved more than 3/4 of a point since the market started upward a week ago.

Industrials also worked higher, but utilities were somewhat stationary. Softness marked the convertible group, for stocks were under pressure.

The rail list showed gains of 1 to 3 1/2 points in Baltimore & Ohio, including 4 1/2, Central Pacific Short Line 4 1/2, Chesapeake & Ohio first 4 1/2, Erie consolidated 4 1/2, Great Northern 4 1/2, Illinois Central 4 1/2, Rio Grande Western first 4 1/2, St. Louis Southern second 4 1/2.

Line issues gave another striking demonstration of strength, the gold 4 1/2 rising 5/8 points, while the consolidated 4 1/2, the adjustment 4 1/2 and the refunding 4 1/2 all touched new highs. International Great Northern 4 1/2 soared 4 1/2 to the new high of 108.

A Oge of the features of the session was the support accorded United States Government issues. The Treasury 4 1/2 and 4 1/2 rose more than half a point each, the former touching 104 and the latter 108. Liberty fourth 4 1/2 showed a maximum gain of 3/4.

Bethlehem Steel 5 1/2, Armour Refining 4 1/2, Colorado Fuel & Iron 5 1/2, Chile Copper 5 1/2, International Match 5 1/2 and International Paper 5 1/2 led the industrials with gains of 1/2 to 1 1/2. Oil company bonds were slightly higher.

One of the few convertibles to show strength was the New Haven 6 1/2, which rose to 133 1/2, a gain since the market started two days, on the strength of the shares. The high for this issue, which is convertible into common stock at par, is 137. The bond's net gain in today's session was 1 point.

A Texas Corporation convertible 5 1/2 closed fractionally higher, but American National 4 1/2, Atchafalaya 4 1/2 and International 4 1/2 lost 1/4 to 1/2 points. The latter decline was registered by the first-named. Seneca 4 1/2, 10 to 10 1/4.

The tone of the foreign list displayed marked improvement. Berlin 4 1/2 gained 3/4, Brazilian 4 1/2 were in demand at higher prices, while Cuban 4 1/2 advanced more than 2 points. German Agricultural Bank obligations turned irregular after a strong opening.

Honey Guide in the Hindu Kush. One of a caravan passing through the Hindu Kush suddenly swings his horse out of line to follow a small, plain colored bird. The bird stops at a dead tree—and the man runs forward, his mates eagerly pressing after.

In America the sure guide to financial success is that drab looking item in the glittering array of security prospectuses: "Unfailing safety." Assurance of this factor is what the wise investor looks for always—a proof such as has been made to thousands of investors in the 6% First Mortgage Notes sold through the Swartzell, Rheem &amp; Hensley Company.

Through 60 years of panic and prosperity, war and peace, these notes have paid their regular interest returns to every investor—each payment has been sent out on the day it is due.

TO ASSIST WORKED ON ADVISE INVESTMENTS BY CHARLES W. STORM

National City Acts to Place Huge Resources at Average Man's Disposal.

Interest is aroused in financial circles by the "uniform" plan of the National City Bank of New York, it being believed to represent the first practicable attempt to make available to persons of moderate means the advantages of corporate trust service.

The plan, it was learned yesterday, is in line with the policy of the National City organization to extend its resources, experience and facilities to the greatest possible number of people.

The plan presents a further important step in development of the National City's program and, because of the world-wide scope of application, possesses probably greater significance as a pioneering effort than establishment of other services such as that of the personal loan department, in which National City was a leader.

Branch Banks Effective. The banking services of the National City have been popularized through its branch system, compound interest and personal loan departments and other facilities. The investment services and facilities of the National City, maintaining a larger security, are being extended, have been effectively placed at the disposal of small investors through offices here and in other cities throughout the country and in other centers.

Now, through the uniform trust plan, the trust service of the organization is dedicated to the upbuilding of small as well as large estates. The National City bank, in all of its services, banking, investment and trust, is an organization equipped to handle business generally, whether large or small.

President Robert W. Fleming, of Riggs National Bank, has been honored by appointment to membership in the American Bankers Association's special committee of national bank research authorized at the recent convention of the association in San Francisco, news to this effect reaching the city yesterday.

This committee will investigate vital problems of national banks and attempt their solution. Some of these problems are so acute that various national banks have requested their chartering authorities to take action. Mr. Fleming's committee will make a thorough study of the national banking system, and the causes of disaffection with it as it exists, and suggest the best methods to prevent further withdrawals. The committee will also be charged with the task of devising a plan of action which should be devoted to these problems and only banks with a thorough knowledge of them have been selected for the committee.

Revenue Freight Drops. Loading of revenue freight for the week ended October 5 totaled 1,799,047 cars, the car service division of the American Railway Association announced yesterday.

Compared with the corresponding week last year, the total for the week of October 5 was an increase of 76,053 cars over the corresponding week in 1927. The total for the week of October 5 was a reduction of 23,064 cars under the preceding week this year, with reductions being reported in the loading of all commodities except grain and grain products and live stock.

Loading of revenue freight in 1929, compared with the previous year, was:

Merger Jumps. Sustained activity in Mergenthaler Linotype stock, which sold up to 10 1/2, point and a quarter gain, in transfers agreed to by the board of directors yesterday's session of the Washington Stock Exchange in which bonds were sold at a premium and stock turnover improved considerably.

Trading in Mergenthaler and the small-priced Real Estate Mortgage & Guaranty preferred stock sales volume to 846 shares, an advance of 173 over the preceding session. The bond market receded in volume yesterday, yesterday's aggregate of $10,000 making a decline of $4,900. American Security & Trust Co. stock registered a five-point gain in sales of six shares at 46 1/2. Four hundred and thirty shares of Real Estate Mortgage & Guaranty preferred transferred at 7 1/2, last sale price. Prices remained firm.

Honor Bell's Memory. The following resolutions on the death of the late Charles J. Bell have been adopted by the Riggs National Bank:

"Whereas Mr. Charles J. Bell, chairman of the board of directors of the American Security & Trust Co., passed from this life on October 1, 1929;

"Whereas Mr. Bell had always shown a keen interest in the affairs of the Riggs National Bank and had acted for many years as a senior member of the proxy committee at its meetings;

"Whereas he was a banker of distinguished attainments, of steadfast principle and of untiring energy, always ready to serve the public with the exceptional qualities he possessed, now, therefore, be it Resolved, That the board of directors of the Riggs National Bank express its profound sorrow at the death of Mr. Bell, that this resolution be spread upon the minutes, and be it further

"Resolved, That copies of this resolution be sent to the board of directors of the American Security & Trust Co. and to the family of Mr. Bell, as an evidence of the sincere sympathy of the board of directors and officers of the Riggs National Bank."

Loans for Home Heavy. Investments of $142,360.41 in real estate mortgage loans were made by the Prudential Insurance Co. of America during the first nine months of this year. This announcement by Archibald M. Woodruff, vice president in charge of this phase of the Prudential's investments, was issued from the company's home office at Newark, N. J., yesterday. It was accompanied by a statement showing how the funds had been allocated.

There were 14,342 loans on dwellings for a total of $75,333,003, and 988 on apartment houses for the sum of $31,888,356. These 15,330 loans provided living accommodations for 28,735 families.

On farm properties, the Prudential made 2,857 loans for a total of $38,001, while on city properties other than those used for dwelling purposes there were 258 loans for a total of $9,701,137.

Sunbirds Last In 3-Horse Contest

Trailer From Start in Feature Race.

Donnay Takes Third Straight, Beating Field of Sprinters.

Special to The Washington Post.

LAUREL RACE TRACK, Oct. 15.—Muders had their opportunity at Laurel this afternoon. Heavy showers fell during the night and the going this afternoon suited horses that fancy deep going. The change in track conditions was responsible for numerous withdrawals. Small fields ruled and surprises were in order. One of the biggest disappointments was the defeat of the odds-on favorite, Sunbird. The latter was one of the three starters that went to the post in the Feature Meade Purse. When Lisa, Bay Beauty, Moscow and Battle Ax were withdrawn it left Sunbird in what looked like a soft spot and he went to the post a 3-to-5 favorite.

When it came to the running, Sunbird was never a factor. Breaking slowly, he immediately dropped back behind the pack and was out of the race before he had gone a quarter of the mile.

Donnay Wins Third Straight.

It looks as though the Donnoona racecourse stable may be on the way to making a name for itself. Making his third start in Maryland since the beginning of the Haver de Grace meeting, Donnay again showed his ability as a handy winner over Kopeck in the running of the Magoghy Purse. It was Donnay's third straight victory. The field, which numbered eight, was made up of some pretty fair sprinters. Erin Queen and Kopeck drew away from their position when the race was called and the pair raced like a team down the backstretch. Rounding the turn into the home stretch, Kopeck drew away and the pair raced like a team down the backstretch. MY WARDROBE—LOOK AT IT! A SCARE CROW WOULD BLUSH IF HE CAUGHT A CROW LOOKING AT HIM DRESSED IN ANYTHING I HAVE IN THAT CLOSET—

WHAT? BREAKFAST NOT READY YET? HENRIETTA—I'LL DISCHARGE YOU—AND LOOK AT THOSE DISHES NOT WASHED—LEFT OVER FROM LAST NIGHT—WE'LL CERTAINLY HAVE TO GET A NEW MAID IN THIS HOUSE—

AND TO THINK TOM CARR WITH OVER $200,000.—AND SINGLE—YOU OUGHT TO BE ASHAMED—DOING THE HOUSE WORK—GOING AROUND LOOKING LIKE A BEGGAR—UNCLE BIM—WAH!—I HAVE WAITED LONG ENOUGH FOR HIM—AND BESIDES HE'S OLD—AND HANDSOME—TOM CARR IS YOUR CHANCE—HERE IS YOUR OPPORTUNITY—YOUR OPPORTUNITY—PLOW DEEP WHILE OTHERS SLEEP—IS THE OLD MOTTO—

THE SURE WAY TO MISS SUCCESS IS TO MISS THE OPPORTUNITY—THE GLOOM AND FOG HAVE HUNG OVER YOUR LIFE LONG ENOUGH—NO CLOUD REMAINS FIXED—THE SUN WILL SHINE TOMORROW—

TO THE SHOPPING DISTRICT TO THE BARGAIN COUNTERS TO THE HAIRDRESSER

"A Good Deed a Day"

If that alone made one a Boy Scout, then every Post carrier boy would automatically be qualified. For not only does he bring the up-to-the-minute news of the world to your door "the first thing in the morning"—when news is most live and desirable—but he also performs the good deed of saving you money.

The Washington Post

Will be delivered to your door for less than you can buy it for on the street or at newsstands. The regular price for all editions is 1c, but you can enjoy the convenience and certainty of home delivery for less than 2c a day.
